TOKEN VALUE

CRPC price & distribution volume stabilize the price by creating a floor

Crypt-POINT is creating a floor for CRPC token's value, using a reserve fund to buy up the tokens when its price falls below a certain level. This can help to prevent the price from falling too far, and reassure our token holders that CRPC can be a store of value.

The reserve fund has been established by Crypt-POINT issuing the token, and is funded with a portion of the proceeds from the token sales. The company can use the reserve fund to buy back the token when its price falls below a predetermined level, effectively creating a price floor.

By creating a floor for the token's value, Crypt-POINT can instill confidence in the token and encourage investors to hold onto it for the long term.

Crypt-POINT has identified four key markets – Japan with partner StarL, Costco China, Store points Cambodia, and Entertainment token Taiwan

These markets have been identified as crucial to the company's business operations and form the core of its strategic focus. By concentrating its efforts in these specific markets, Crypt-POINT can tailor its approach and maximize its potential for success in each one. With its expertise in these regions, the company is well-positioned to take advantage of opportunities and achieve sustainable growth in the long term.

TOKEN DETAILS

CryptPointToken (CRPC)

Token standard: ERC-20

Ticker: CRPC

Total supply: 60,000,000,000 CRPC (fixed)

Type: Utility token

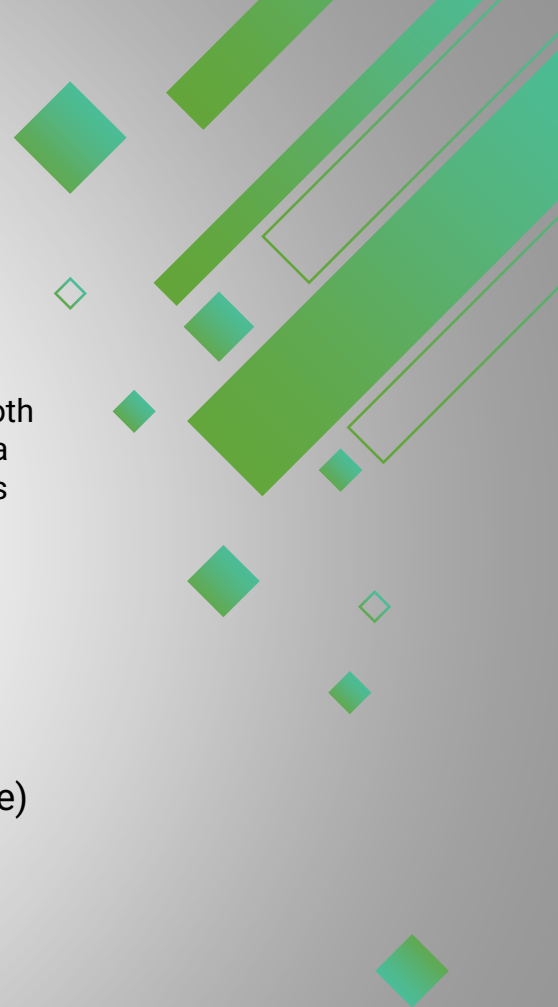

Trading pair: CRPC/USDT

If the CRPC theoretical price is 1.00$ and it is traded at 0.99$ on the exchange
(theoretical price > appraisal price)
→ Since it can be officially sold at 1.00$, market participants buy at 0.99$ and get a profit → CRPC price returns to 1.00$

CRPC Promotions

Additional bonuses are available for both volume orders and holding tokens for a fixed period after the lockup period has ended.

If the CRPC theoretical price is $1.00 and traded at $1.01 on the exchange
(theoretical price < appraisal price)
→ If the formula sells on the market, the price will return to $1.00. the formula is profitable
